Margery Heins conducts a rehearsal of the Greenfield Chamber Singers.

Chamber Singers to perform Sunday

GREENFIELD — The Greenfield Chamber Singers are planning an early spring concert of "Chamber Music for Chorus and Piano" on Sunday, March 8, at 3 p.m. The performance will take place at the Academy at Charlemont, located on Route 2.

Conductor Margery Heins has chosen a program of sacred and secular works appropriate for small chorus. Featuring works on the theme of springtime in six languages, some will be sung by a cappella chorus and others will be for chorus and piano with Priscilla Smith, the Chamber Singers accompanist, at the Academy's Steinway piano.

Madrigals will open the program, and the set will include: "The Echo Song" by Orlando di Lasso and "The Song of the Birds" by Clement Janequin in the original Italian and French.

An early work for chorus and piano by Schubert, "An Die Sonne," will be followed by sounds of Eastern European and Russian dancing in several of Antonin Dvorak's "Moravian Duets" with Jeanette Tessier and Karen Pendleton, soloists, and all of the Chamber Singers in Nikolai Rimsky-Korsakov's Opus 19 Folk Songs.

The remainder of the program is devoted to American works, beginning with a set of spirituals including "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" with Ancy Borton, soprano soloist. Three sacred works by 20th-century American composers close the program, and include "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" by Alan Hovhaness, Psalm 23 by Randall Thompson and "Break Forth Into Joy," the last movement of a cantata "Visions of Isaiah" by Robert Starer.

This is the 12th season for the Greenfield Chamber Singers, a community chorus of 20 singers. The Chamber Singers' last concert of the season will offer a program of music by Schutz, Bach and Monteverdi with chamber orchestra on May 16 at 8 p.m. at Blessed Sacrament Church in Greenfield.

Tickets are $4 general admission, $3 for students and seniors, and are available at Avery's Store in Charlemont, Boswell's Books in Shelburne Falls, the World Eye Bookshop in Greenfield, at the door or by calling 498-5064. The auditorium at the Academy is handicapped accessible.

For more information, write the Greenfield Chamber Singers, P.O. Box 234, Northfield MA 01360 or call 498-5064.
