

SG outlines grade appeals

As final exams and the end of the semester near, the Student Government has outlined the grade appeals procedure for students.

Jeff Dunn, vice president for Academic Affairs, said, "The procedure is done through the University Academic Appeals Panel. Students should understand this panel is a formal procedure through which they are asking a panel of faculty and students to overrule decisions made by the student's dean or an instructor's department head.

"The main function of this panel is to hear appeals only on final course grades or appeals involving suspension for academic reasons," said Dunn.

Dunn outlined the following procedure:

First, the student should attempt to resolve all differences with his instructor and/or dean. Should this fail the student must arrange for a preliminary interview with the chairman of the University Academic Appeals Panel, Dr. Harry Kroiter.

Second, the student must submit in writing all pertinent information to his appeal at least five days before appeals meetings begin. He will be expected to support and prove his assertions that his academic evaluation was done in a capricious, arbitrary or prejudiced manner.

The panel will not make any decision on a specific appeal until all pertinent information is received from the student, his dean and from the registrar's office.

Upon conclusion of the appeals meeting, the panel will immediately tell the student of its decision, and then send a formal letter to the student's dean. Where relevant, the instructor and department head, will also be contacted.

"A more detailed, summary description of these procedures has been distributed to all academic deans for information purposes and for distribution to interested students," said Dunn.

Nelson's picnic adds Rick Nelson

Rick Nelson is one of four additions to Willie Nelson's second annual 4th of July Picnic at the Texas World Speedway July 4, 5 and 6.

Other additions are Mickey Newbury, Doug Kershaw, and Lefty Frizzell.

Mickey Newbury is a songwriter/performer who is popular among both country and folk fans. A native Texan, Newbury has been working out of Nashville for a number of years but, until recently, was best known among other musicians as writer. His songs—"San Francisco Mabel Joy," for example—have been recorded by singers with such diverse public images as Waylon Jennings and Joan Baez.

Doug Kershaw, also attracts both country and folk fans. His Cajun music is authentic because Kershaw's roots are in the Louisiana Cajun country. He has played on a number of network TV shows and his records have been popular for some time.

Rick Nelson and Lefty Frizzell represent two eras of country music. In the '50s, records by Lefty Frizzell and the late Hank Williams almost filled up many of the country juke boxes. Rick Nelson, introduced to the public in the '50s as a child on his parent's TV series, "Ozzie and Harriet," is a comparative newcomer to country music.

Other entertainers on the Willie Nelson show include: Hank Wilson, Sammi Smith, Michael Murphy, Tracey Nelson, Jerry Jeff Walker, Kinky Friedman, Asleep at the Wheel, Dottie West, Gezezanlav Brothers, Red Steagall, Jimmy Buffett, Towns Van Zandt, Ray Wylie Hubbard, Kenneth Threadgill, Johnny Duncan, Waylon Jennings, B. W. Stevenson, Rusty Weir, Red Lane, Billy Joe Shaver, Johnny Darnell, Darrel McCall, Delbert & Glenn, Augie Meyer, Doug Sahm, Jimmie Day, Lee Clayton, Floyd Tillman, Dee Moeller, Greezy Wheels, George Chambers, Bobby Bare, Buzz Rabin, Johnny Bush, Terry Stafford, Tompall Glaser, David Allen Coe and Bill Monroe.

Advance tickets are $8 per day and $20 for all three days and will cost 10 per day at the gate. They may be ordered by sending money orders or cashier's checks to Willie Nelson's 4th of July Picnic, Box 9500, College Station.
