

VERY FINE FOLK

A SMALL ARMY OF lesser-known, but often brilliantly talented folk, blues and gospel performers will be playing for free tomorrow and Sunday in the Out-of-Doors Festival at Lincoln Center. So (take a deep breath), here they are. Tomorrow, for "Blues and Gospel Day": noon, Rev. Dan Smith; 1 p.m. Bob Brozman; 2 p.m., Drink Small; 3 p.m., Marcia Ball (r.) — she's also at the Lone Star Sunday and Monday; 4 p.m., Moses Rascoe; 5 p.m., Fairfield Four; 6 p.m., Mighty Joe Young; 7:30 p.m., Chambers Brothers; 9 p.m., Katie Webster. Sunday, at "The Sixth Annual Folk Heritage Day": noon, Hudson River Boys; 1 p.m., Paton Family; 2 p.m., Priscilla Herdman; 3 p.m., Si Kahn; 4 p.m., Bruce Daigrepoint Cajun Band; 5 p.m., Townes Van Zandt; 6 p.m., Alison Krauss; 7 p.m., Buskin and Batteau; 8 p.m., Clancy Brothers.
